

Media Advisory, June 4, 2012, Chicago

Brilliant Litigation Attorney Stricken with Parkinson's Disease Turns Professional Artistic Photojournalist with Debut of His Photos at Chicago's Mars Gallery Thursday, June 7, 2012

Portion of art proceeds to benefit The Parkinson's Disease and Movement Disorder Program at Rush University Medical Center as a thank you o the doctors for giving Bradley his life back

June 4, 2012 – CHICAGO -- Brilliant litigation attorney Bradley Weiss, who was stricken with Parkinson's Disease at the height of his Washington, DC career with the Department of Justice and as Of Counsel at Chicago's prestigious law firm, Miner, BarnHill & Galland, turns professional artistic photojournalist with the debut of his photo series Montezuma Nights at Chicago's Mars Gallery, opening Thursday evening June 7, 2012, 1139 W. Fulton Market. Curated by renowned curator and photographer Susan Aurinko. Opening night reception is being sponsored by a collaboration of the many different connections in Bradley's life including his former Chicago law firm Miner, Barnhill & Galland and Highland Park restaurant 2nd Street Bistro with live music by The Side Cars. Thanks to a risky surgery called DBS (deep brain stimulation last December) Bradley's Parkinson's has slowed down and according to him, he is almost back to his old self! To honor the Rush University Medical Center doctors who gave Bradley his life back, a portion of art proceeds opening night will benefit The Parkinson's Disease & Movement Disorder Program at Rush University MedicalCenter (Rush) as a deep hearted thank you.

Opening Reception of Montezuma Nights – A Photographic Exhibition by Bradley Weiss, Curated by Susan Aurinko. Portion of art proceeds benefits Parkinson's disease.

Thursday, June 7, 2012
6:00pm – 9:00pm

MARS GALLERY
1139 West Fulton Market, Chicago
312.226.7808

In honor of: The Parkinson's Disease & Movement Disorder Program at Rush University MedicalCenter and its team of magnificent doctors

Live Music by The Side Cars
Food graciously provided by 2nd Street Bistro, Highland Park
Libations graciously provided by Miner, BarnHill & Galland

Free to public

A portion of art proceeds opening night will benefit The Parkinson's Disease & Movement Disorder Program at Rush University MedicalCenter as a deep hearted thank you to the doctors that gave Bradley his life back!

Interview Opportunities: Bradley Weiss, the doctors from The Parkinson's Disease & Movement Disorder Program at Rush, Miner, BarnHill & Galland partner Jeffrey Miner, curator Susan Aurinko)

Photo Opportunities: Bradley Weiss, his children Jack (17) & Leah (13), the doctors from The Parkinson's Disease & Movement Disorder Program at Rush, Miner, BarnHill & Galland partner Judson Miner.

To arrange interviews, for a media kit and/or images and for more information contact: Abbe Sparks @ 224.567.9166 or abbeparks@gmail.com or abbe@abbeparksmidiarelations.com

###